
Values are sampled at fixed physical positions. Lines join only those samples; no Cp clipping, smoothing or extrapolation.
The deepest tip/wake corner remains unresolved. This comparison does not validate its mesh-dependent peak or structural torque.
PANAIR was run on identical surface nodes; the data include its documented corner-warning limitations. Mesh counts are chord × span.